Three Injured by Covina Car.

Five-year-old Delfina Verde, who lives with her grandmother at 1957 Bailey street, Los Angeles, was probably fatally injured Thursday afternoon when she was struck by a speeding Covina car near Bailey street and the Pasadena Short Line right of way.

The car also struck her grandmother, Mrs. Conception Parra, fifty-nine years old, and Mrs. G. H. Giotto. They were severely bruised. Mrs. Parra sustained a fracture of her left arm and right hip. Scalp wounds and internal injuries probably will cause the child's death. Her foot was crushed and had to be amputated.

The trio had started to walk toward El Monte. Just after leaving Bailey street they entered upon the right of way. A car whistled behind them and they stepped to the other track, only to be run down by a car which bore down upon them. The women were hurled to opposite sides of the track. Little Delfina Verde fell beneath the wheels, and when the car was stopped she was found under it. The child exhibited remarkable bravery and did not even whimper when her foot was taken off. The child was taken to the Clara Barton Hospital, where physicians are attending her.

Reports as to whether or not the motorman gave warning are conflicting.

Farmers' Club to Discuss Subject of County Division.

The Covina Valley Farmers' Club will hold its next regular meeting one week from today, Saturday, Sept. 21st, at 2 p.m. sharp, at the residence of Mrs. John C. Jones, 22nd street, near Grand avenue. The subject will be county division. There will be good speakers on both sides of the question and the club extends a most cordial invitation to everybody interested to be present. The intention is to get at the bottom facts, so that when the question comes up for action all may be in a position to act intelligently and for the best interests of all concerned. Don't stay away because you are not a member of the club, but come everybody. Come, no matter on which side of the question you stand.

Miss Yaw's Success.

Our Covina "Lark Ellen" met with her usual phenomenal success at the grand concert given on Monday, Sept. 2, at Ocean Grove, New Jersey, before an audience of about four thousand people. Other numbers on the program were given by an orchestra of fifty pieces, a chorus of five hundred voices, and Randegeger, the famous pianist. The following is taken from an eastern paper: "Ellen Beach Yaw, the matchless high soprano of the world, had over 3000 more friends at 10 o'clock last night than she had at 8. Her marvelous vocal feats at the Ocean Grove auditorium made her audience fairly gasp in astonishment. It is likely not one of the entire 3000 persons had any idea that the human voice was capable of any such performance as they listened to. None had ever heard its equal nor anything approaching it. Miss Yaw has already given promise to appear at the Ocean Park auditorium again next year, but earlier in the season, when many more people can hear her sing."

Miss Belle A. Williams—supervisor of drawing and batavia teacher. Instructor in manual training not yet appointed.

Many improvements have been made in and about the school buildings and the yards. The high school building, the grammar school building and all of the outbuildings have been repaired. The new athletic club house have been built in and some necessary improvements have been made in the commercial department and the basement of the high school. Quite an improvement in the seating of the high school assembly room has been adopted. It is so arranged that the seats can all be massed in a few minutes, thus providing for the putting in of chairs to accommodate a large audience.

Manual training branches, and manual training tools will soon be installed and a teacher secured to carry on the work. The benches were shipped from Chicago Aug. 14, and C. W. Potter was the lowest bidder for furnishing the list of tools. Thus the sound of saw, hammer and plane, the swish of paint brush and the tap, tap, tap of the plumber have made our school equipment cleanly, convenient and sanitary.

Tonight's Concert.

The concert at the Womans Club House this evening by local talent and Miss Hazel Bowden of Los Angeles, will be one of the best given here for some time. Among those who will render musical numbers are: Miss Vyvienne Paulder, Miss Elsie Spencer, Mrs. Brunjes, Minter Stanton and Miss White. Miss Bowden will give some of the strongest pieces in her repertoire. Among them is Robert Bulwer Lytton's "Aux Italiens." That old favorite of James Whitcomb Riley, "The Bear Story," will provoke mirth for the grownups as well as the children. The reserved seats are being sold at Clapp's for 35c, general admission 25c, children under twelve, 15c.

C. J. Andrews, Who Once Conducted a Shooting Gallery in This City, Kills Woman and Himself.

Those of our citizens who enjoyed the sport of "three shots for a nickel" will remember a short, thick set man and a dark eyed woman whom he claimed as his wife, who conducted a shooting gallery on Citrus avenue. The man gave his name as C. Andrews, by which he was known during his stay of two months in this city. So far as is known the couple while here deported themselves as law abiding citizens, with the exception of leaving a few unpaid bills upon their somewhat sudden departure.

Recently the press dispatches from Chicago announced a mysterious tragedy in that city. A man named as C. Andrews and a young woman whom he had introduced to friends as Miss Ethel Blaine of Los Angeles, although registered as his wife, were found dead in their room in the Saratoga hotel. An examination of the surroundings indicated the man had killed the girl and then blew his brains out.

Andrews had a wife and son in the East whom he deserted, and with another woman came to this coast, and after tiring of her and the vicarious life he was living, left the woman with whom he was living in this town, picked up another woman and left for Chicago, in which place he finished his career, being one of many sides. Andrews was at one time known as the king of gamblers in Northern Indiana. But as usually happens to men of such a profession, misfortune overtook him and his luck failing to return he hit the road, traveling about the country operating a shooting gallery.

ATMOSPHERIC ELECTRICITY.

Experiment Suggested by Franklin and Performed by D'Alibard.

To Benjamin Franklin belongs the merit of having perceived that a direct experiment was needed to prove what so far was only a guess. In an article entitled "Opinions and Conjectures Concerning the Properties and Effects of the Electrical Matter Arising From Experiments and Observations Made at Philadelphia, 1749," the following passage occurs:

"To determine the question whether the clouds that contain lightning are electrified or not I would propose an experiment to be tried where it can be done conveniently. On the top of some high tower or steep place a kind of scuttry box big enough to contain a man and an electrical stand. From the middle of the stand let an iron rod rise and pass, bending out of the door and then upright twenty feet or thirty feet, pointed very sharp at the end. If the electrical stand be kept clean and dry a man standing on it when such clouds are passing low might be electrified and afford sparks, the rod drawing fire to him from a cloud.

"If any danger to the man should be apprehended, though I think there would be none, let him stand on the floor of his box and now and then bring near to the rod the loop of a wire that has one end fastened to the leads, he holding it by a wax handle, so the sparks if the rod be electrified will strike from the rod to the wire and not affect him."

The experiment suggested by Franklin was successfully performed in Marly, France, by D'Alibard on May 10, 1752; in London by Canton in Spital square on July 20, 1752, and by Wilson in Chelmsford, Essex, on Aug. 12 of the same year. Franklin himself described having used a kite in Philadelphia in a letter dated Oct. 19 without giving the date of his observations. Rosenberger ("Geschichte der Physik," volume 2, page 316) mentioned that it was done in June.

Franklin's disbelief in the dangerous character of the experiment must have received a severe shock when he heard of the death of G. W. Richman, who, in the year 1753, was killed by an electric discharge drawn from the clouds by means of a kite.

A HOG ORCHESTRA.

French Musician Made the Squealers Sing a Tune.

During the reign of Louis XI. of France there was attached to his court one Abbot de Baigne, a man of considerable wit. The abbot was somewhat musically inclined and delighted the court with inventions of odd musical instruments. One day the king, after having enjoyed a hearty laugh over one of these curious contrivances and desiring to baffle this musical genius, commanded him to produce harmonious sounds from the cries of hogs. This seemed an impossibility to the king, and he prepared himself to enjoy the discomfiture of the abbot. Much to his surprise, however, the abbot readily agreed to produce them. All he required was a sum of money, upon receipt of which he declared he would invent the most surprising thing ever heard in the way of musical atrocity.

He scoured the country and secured a large number of hogs, trying their voices as to pitch and quality, and finally, having fully satisfied himself, he arranged the animals in a sort of pavilion richly decorated. The day of the trial arrived, and the king and his court entered the pavilion prepared for something, but greatly in doubt as to the success of the abbot with the hogs.

However, there were the hogs, sure enough, and, much to the surprise and delight of the king, they commenced to cry harmoniously and in good tune, rendering an air that was fairly recognized. The abbot had arranged a series of stops that were connected with the hogs and upon pulling one of them out caused a spike to prick the hog it connected with, making him squeal his note. The rest was easy, for by pulling out the different stops he produced the tune.

A Ring Island.

Many coral reef islands in the Pacific are in the form of more or less perfect rings, or ovals, inclosing lagoons. The ring island of Ninaton, halfway between Fiji and Samoa, is not a coral reef, but a volcanic ring inclosing a crater containing a lake two miles in diameter. Toward the sea the ring is bordered with walls of black lava, and on the inner side these break down in cliffs 200 to 300 feet in height. An eruption in 1886 formed a peninsula on the eastern side of the lake. While the ocean outside is trembling and thundering under a heavy wind the lake remains smooth or is simply wrinkled with ripples.

The Time to Cry "Halt!"

If one be watchful there comes a time in the life of every man and woman when one or more discoveries are made. The walk is not so brisk, the shoulders have got into a way of slumping forward and the back is not so erect as formerly. Now is the time to cry "Halt!" It is the time to drill the body, the time to revise sleep, diet, exercise, occupation, relaxation and all habits. Every son and daughter of humanity should refuse this gradual yielding to decay.

The Difference.

"I always thought," remarked an English judge, "that a parasol and a sunshade were the same."

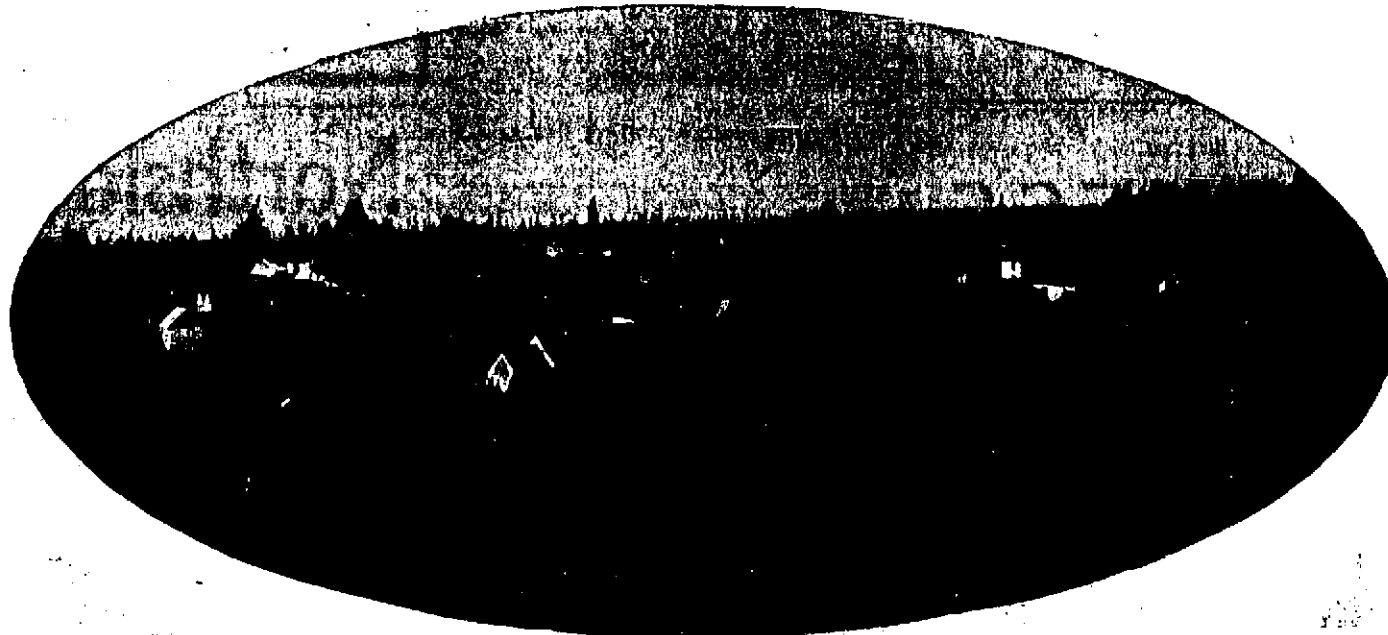

"No," replied the witness on the stand; "a sunshade is to keep the sun off; a parasol is to flirt with."

COVINA

"A City Among the Orange Groves"

THE above were the words which fell from the lips of Gov. J. N. Gillett of California, when he visited recently this fair gem set in its semi-tropic surroundings. No words more fitting could have been chosen in describing Covina, the chief town of the far-famed San Gabriel Valley. Every boulevard and driveway for miles in every direction is flanked with peerless groves, and the very atmosphere in the early springtime is laden with the perfume of the orange blossom and the trees laden with the golden ripe fruit. Along these firm, oiled driveways, ornamental vegetation of the common and rarer sorts grows in profusion, and withal are the lovely homes set in spacious grounds, where roses thrive in such varied richness that they appear voluptuous even amidst indescribable floral wealth. Sublimely eminent over the landscape that blesses the eye from Covina is the majestic peak of San Antonio and those of lesser altitude, but none the less beautiful, of the Sierra Madre range, with their snow crowns shining and sparkling like jewels. Covina has no rival in Los Angeles county for beauty of situation. Enhanced by the markings of civilization, its scenic loveliness, viewed in broad perspective, is hardly surpassed anywhere.

There is little danger of incurring any tourist's resentment by advising him to tarry at Covina for more than a casual glance about him. Many things he will treasure in memory are to be seen in and about the pretty burg.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF COVINA

To the homeseeker Covina extends a standing invitation. The right hand of hospitality is all ways extended to all worthy people to cast their lots with ours and enjoy the grandeur of mountain, the perpetual gladness of vernal life, fruiting and flowering in perennial concert, an atmosphere blending the azure of mountain tops with the tincture of the sea, the conveniences of civilization, and an opportunity of securing handsome returns for their labors in the cultivation of our groves.

Covina was incorporated as a city in 1901, and at once took rank as one of the best governed cities of California, which position it holds steadfastly.

Our population is estimated at 2500.

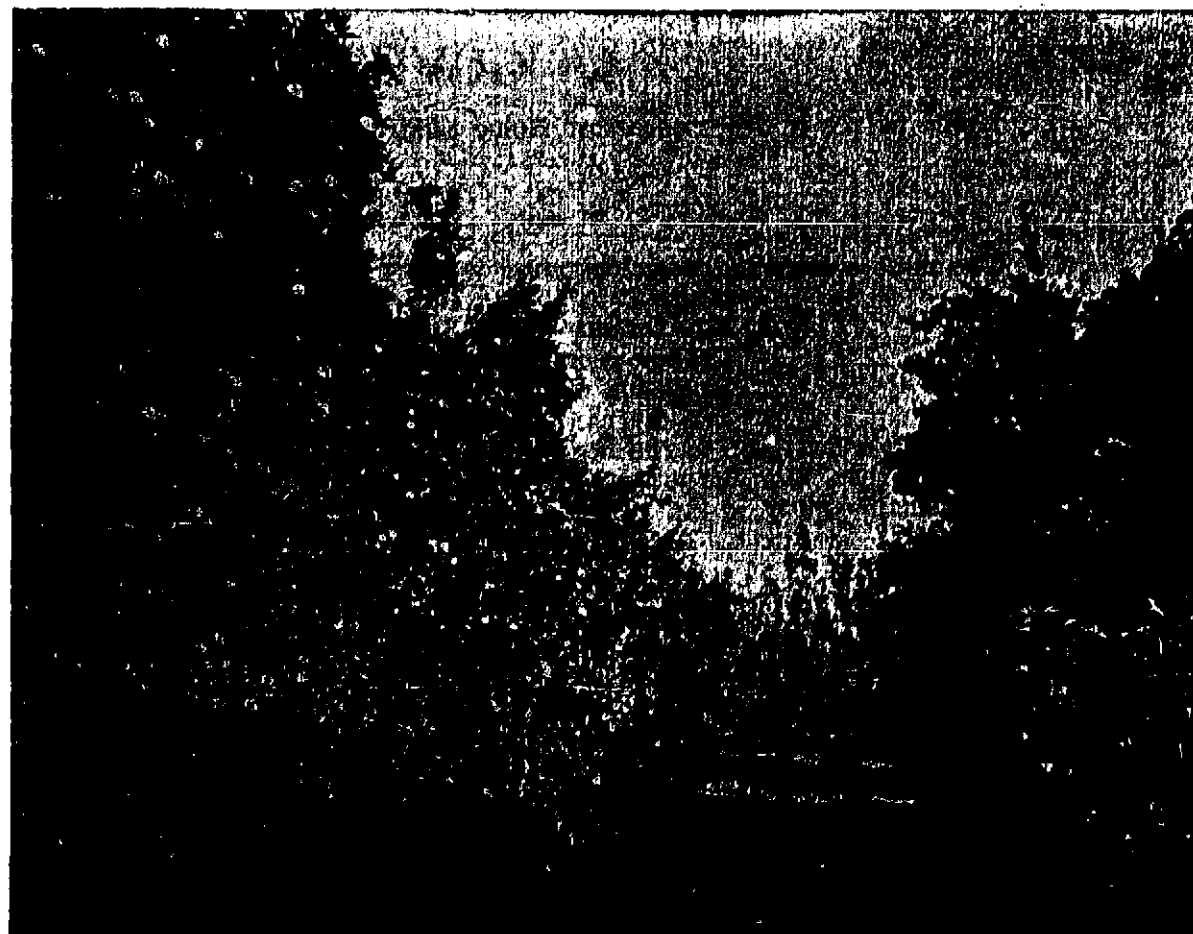

Covina is located twenty-one miles east of Los Angeles in the upper San Gabriel Valley. It is connected with Los Angeles and other points by the Southern Pacific railroad and the new line of the Pacific Electric, which furnishes hourly service, with a running time of 35 minutes, through many miles of the finest orange groves.

The public schools of Covina are the pride of the people and the buildings are constructed after the most approved modern plan. In all respects they are up-to-date. Our high-school certificates are accepted in the leading colleges and universities, East and West. Grammar school graduates accredited in the high schools of California and all other states.

The people of Covina are, emphatically, church-goers, and each of the six different churches are well attended. The Methodist and Baptist denominations are both building new edifices to accommodate their respective congregations, which had outgrown their present church buildings.

No saloons exist in the city, and those who desire to raise families amid good social and moral environments find here an ideal community.

Covina boasts of a beautiful Carnegie library, built in 1905, which is largely patronized. An especial feature of the institution is the children's reading room.

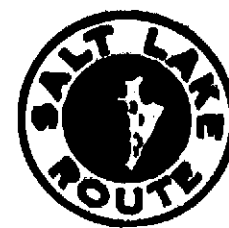

ELDORADO RANCH—Property of J. H. Adams

In few communities, even in Southern California, can there be found a people more universally imbued with civic pride than are the citizens of Covina. The Covina Home Telephone Company occupies its own building and furnishes a complete and efficient service. Subscribers have the use of over 800 phones, including free connections with the towns of Azusa, Glendora, San Dimas, Charter Oak, Irwindale and Puente. The Covina Gas Company, also a local institution, furnishes gas for both fuel and illumination. The San Gabriel Light and Power Company furnishes light for Covina, private homes and streets, which are well lighted by a complete system of incandescent lights. The Covina Land and Water Company, controlled by H. E. Huntington, furnishes the city with a pure water supply under excellent pressure. We have two national and two savings banks. Our stores are of high order and all leading lines of business are represented. The Vendome is a first-class country hotel.

Our clubs are of a social, literary and musical nature. The Monday afternoon Club, a ladies' literary, federated organization, owning a handsome club-house on the corner of Citrus avenue and Center street; the Fortnightly, a gentleman's literary club; the Amphion, a musical organization; and the Covina Country Club, equipped with a suitable and charming building; the San Gabriel Valley Auto Club with its sixty-seven autos make frequent delightful runs over the fine roadways; and the Covina Valley Farmers' Club, devoted to horticultural and public interests. Covina has also its full quota of fraternal organizations.

Covina ranks as the leading orange district of Los Angeles county. Eleven completely equipped packing houses are required to prepare for market the thousands of carloads of oranges which are shipped from this point annually to the eastern markets. In annual shipments Covina ranks first in Los Angeles county and third in the world. The raising of lemons is also a leading industry. Besides our citrus products, delicious fruits and berries of every kind are grown in abundance. Agricultural products and grains grown on lands southwest of the city also form a leading source of income.

COVINA, Sept. 14, 1907.

"The forthcoming Industrial Edition of the Argus will do more for the good of Covina than anything which has yet been undertaken in this line." This is the expression of several prominent business men of Covina, and expresses the general opinion of everyone interviewed in regard to the matter.

This edition will consist of sixteen pages, printed on heavy book paper and profusely illustrated with half-tone views of the city, her streets, business houses and residences. While, of course, it will be manifestly impossible to give the stranger an absolutely correct idea of our beautiful city—neither words nor illustrations having the power to present its beauties as they actually exist—it is the intention of the Argus to go into the matter more elaborately than was ever before undertaken. With this intention, we have secured the cooperation of our prominent business men and public-spirited citizens in Covina and vicinity, who have taken hold of the matter in an enthusiastic manner and are lending their aid in a manner that will insure an edition of which Covina may well be proud.

The benefits to be derived from an edition of this character, however, would be limited, should copies of it not reach the persons intended. With the Industrial Edition of the Argus, however, this matter will cause no trouble, the manner of its distribution insuring its having a wide circulation among good people throughout the East and elsewhere. Patrons of its columns will supply names and addresses of parties to whom they are promptly mailed. Others may make arrangements along the same lines by calling at this office.

We would suggest, however, that orders for extra copies be sent in at once, so that should the number of copies wanted exceed the 2,500 for which we have already planned, arrangements may be made to print as many more as may be needed.

Send in your orders at once and help boom Covina.

Any assistance given or favors shown Messrs. Selders and Kennedy, whom the Argus has employed for the special work on this edition, will be appreciated by the editor.

Because Covina turned down the Pacific Electric in the matter of a freight hauling privilege at night, such as Monrovia recently granted the company, that city will have to wait some time for a depot. The material was all on the ground, but Mr. Huntington decided to move it to Monrovia, consequently he had it loaded upon cars, and during the early part of the week it was all delivered on the ground here. We are sorry for Covina's misfortune, but are pleased that we are soon to have the long looked for depot. Monrovia Messenger.

The Monrovia writer's expressions on this matter are not in accord with the facts of the case. The railway company never asked for a night freight carrying franchise and no doubt could secure such a privilege. Neither is Covina to lose her depot. As the depot is to be situated in one of the best residence districts, our people desired a more ornamental building than the one planned, and upon presenting their case, the officials promised them a better structure. Of course, we will have to wait awhile longer, but we hope then to have a building that will be enough better than the Monrovia depot to make it worth while.

Claremont taxpayers have almost wholly decided that they can keep their roads in better condition by spending their road money in their own district and on September 23 will vote upon the question of incorporation.

The Los Angeles County Supervisors have levied a tax of $5000 to be used in connection with the U. S. authorities to reforest San Gabriel canyon.

In anticipation of the appointment of E. R. Jeffrey to the position of State Horticultural Commissioner, the orange growers of this valley are unanimously signing a petition to have C. E. Bemis appointed to fill the resulting vacancy on the County Board of Horticultural Commissioners. Mr. Bemis is a thoroughly competent man and in his work as Horticultural Inspector has familiarized himself with every detail of the work that would fall upon him as County Commissioner.

The National Federation of Labor is expected to levy a tax of one cent a month upon its members to down the Los Angeles Times and unionize Los Angeles. This assessment will amount to between $10,000 and $15,000 a month. The Times, through the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, is endeavoring to raise a fund of $100,000 to drive the unions out of the city. Altogether the prospects are propitious for a lively time among the Los Angeles industrial enterprises during the coming winter.

San Dimas is out with a strong bid for the county seat of the proposed new county. They say they will give a deed to a whole square of town lots and raise $100,000 in money. San Dimas is near the center of the proposed county, and is now reached by two transcontinental railroads and two electric roads are projected.

Monday was the fifty-sixth anniversary of the admission of the state of California into the Union. The day was not generally observed here, but in most of the older and larger cities of the state it was honored by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West.

The Pomona Board of Trade has adopted a resolution pledging itself to enter into an agreement to provide two and one-half acres of land for the new courthouse, should that city be chosen the county seat of the proposed new county, and to supply the necessary building.

Azusa and Glendora expect soon to enjoy the advantages of the trolley car. The track has been laid past Duarte and material is all ready for the completion of the line.

Minstrels Coming.

When Manager Johnson booked Bernard Bros. famous white and colored minstrels for his new theater on Thursday, Sept. 19, he booked one of the best and up-to-date minstrels on the road. The cast includes such well known minstrel men as Walter Lancaster, known the world over as the laugh merchant; Paul Crump, the king of mirth; Charley Ross, the wonderful baritone; Eddie Lancaster a charter member of the fun trust; Geo. Thatcher, a producer of laughter, the man who never smiles; Harry Williams, the sweet voiced tenor; Chickens, the great coon shouter and greatest of all great dancers; Max Layton, one of the youngest and best known minstrel men before the public; Jack Russell, funny Jack from Georgia. They are some of the best known comedians and singers with the company. The cake walking and dancing act, one of the features of the show. In this act are the well known artists, Geo. Harris, Bertha Long, Joe Thomas, Agnes Morris, Bert Mott, Fern Demigedie Lane and Lily Smith. They help to make the evening pass as if by magic, with the great specialties and feature acts. The theater going public of this city will see a show of the class "A" variety. —Adv.

1. GOVERNMENT

Home people in full control of Home affairs.

2. EXPENSES

The most economical administration which may be had with efficient government.

Santa Cruz county cost (13th class)	$94,211.81
New county cost (13th class)	98,534.00
Orange county cost (15th class)	103,227.18
Riverside county cost (20th class)	124,398.16
San Bernardino (10th class)	228,956.70

It cost less last year to run both Orange and Riverside counties, with combined valuations of $34,700,000.00 than San Bernardino county on a valuation of $25,646,000.00

The small county is the best and cheapest.

3. ROADS

The best roads which can be built. The money to be raised by bonds or direct tax as the tax payers may determine through their supervisors.

4. HORTICULTURAL COMMISSION

Citrus men in control of citrus affairs throughout. They know what they want and can pay for anything their industry demands. San Bernardino county wants to quit county fumigating, according to their supervisors' statement. Now is the time to let them quit.

5. FRUIT PRICES

Citrus fruits sold on its merits and by its well known brands.

6. RECORDS

Such records transcribed as the new county needs and may secure without wasting public funds.

7. VALUATIONS AND TAX RATES

The increased valuations now being published make it assured that a tax rate for next year in the new county of $.636 will be more than sufficient to run the county. This estimate is backed by unqualified approval by the auditors of Orange and Riverside counties.

8. NOW IS THE TIME

If organized at once the new county will be gin with money on hand from this year's taxes amounting to a sum from $120,000.00 to $135,000.00, to cover expenses for the remaining eight months of the fiscal year. This will leave a balance of $40,000.00 to $60,000.00 above necessary expenses. To wait means to lose this revenue, to become a part of Pasadena's county, or to be shunted off from Los Angeles county with only the territory between Covina and Claremont for the new county.

CALLING IN PARIS.

The Concierge is a Peculiar Institution in Several Ways.

You leave your card at the door of the person to whom you desire to present yourself, and there it is taken in charge by that peculiarly French functionary, the concierge, says Professor Barrett Wendell in Serlauer's. At least in Paris, the greater part of French people live in large houses containing a number of apartments with a common entrance and staircase. Close to the entrance door, on the level of the street, are some stuffy little rooms inhabited by the concierge, or porter, with his family. Their duty, among other things, is to keep strict watch on whoever goes in or out, and at least one of them, often the porter's wife or half grown daughter, is always at hand.

The chief peculiarity of their temperament seems to be insatiable appetite. At whatever hour of day or evening you call on a concierge you are sure to find somebody eating or just risen from table, and the atmosphere inhabited by this bustling personage seems humorously laden with the fumes of something recently boiled.

No matter whether you call on a friend who lives in some unpretentious out of the way place or on one who inhabits something like a palace, the concierge is always about the same. You can detect little difference between those in charge of important doors and of insignificant. They are as like as house flies. Of course there are private houses in Paris, with regular domestic servants such as you would find anywhere, but these, grand or simple, are so unusual that you remember the concierge as everywhere standing between you and further human intercourse.

In response to your card, which the concierge duly sees delivered, comes a card, often with a note, in return. If, as is generally the case, this acknowledgment of your existence contains an intimation of when your French acquaintance may be found at home, either habitual or for your special benefit, you make your second visit at this appointed time and thus enter into real personal relations.

Otherwise, your intercourse has limited itself to a polite exchange of cards. Generally speaking, you never expect or attempt to see French people socially except when they have asked you to one of their regular days of reception or have made a definite appointment. To call on a person at any other time—to do more than leave your card with the concierge—would be an intrusive pretense to intimacy.

A MOST WORTHY COUPLE HONORED.

The Globe of Cedar Falls, Iowa, in a recent issue gives the following account of a farewell tendered Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, on their leaving to make their home on their productive orange grove in Covina.

The leaving of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald from the musical, social and business circles of this city for their new home in the far west, we can truthfully say that there is a genuine regret among our citizens in general. This most worthy couple have endeared themselves in more than one way to our people and their removal from this city and community leaves a void that will be hard to fill. On Tuesday evening the Cedar Falls Concert band and several of our citizens tendered them a banquet at the Arlington Hotel, which was a most elaborate affair and was of a nature to show their love and great respect and to take a farewell from the honored guests, who left Wednesday for points in the east before leaving for their future home in Covina, California, where Mr. Fitzgerald and his estimable wife may find their surroundings as pleasant and friends as loyal as they leave. The banquet itself was not a surprise, but shortly before the appointed hour for them to take part in the gathering, the Cedar Falls Concert band in full uniform made their appearance at the home and escorted its former worthy director and wife to the banquet hall, where a most sumptuous dinner was served. The large, spacious dining room was beautifully decorated with the choicest of flowers. The banquet was opened by the band singing Auld Lang Syne, which was most appropriate on account of the feeling that those whom he has done so much for in a musical way realized what the meaning of the gathering meant that they were soon to part with the one to whom each and every member of the band owed much, and who for years devoted his best efforts, which were crowned with the results that Cedar Falls has the best musical organization in the state. The functions were opened by a short but heartfelt expression of F. L. McCreary, who acted as toast master, who expressed his feelings and those assembled as follows:

Gentlemen: We are assembled here this evening to do honor to a man. A man who has lived among us for twelve years. And it is our wish to assure him by our presence that he has been a success. We may not always have attained the high standard which he set for us, but we count him a success in his work among us as a musician. He has brought the organization to a very high state of perfection. By doing this he performs a whole duty. But he did not stop there. In addition he has ever tried by act, by word and by precept to inculcate a high moral standard among the young men comprising this organization. How well he has succeeded you all know. For the Cedar Falls band as far as its fame extends is known for the gentlemanly deportment of its members as well as for its fine musical selections. If you will pardon a personality I would like to take this opportunity to publicly express my appreciation of what this man has done for me and to say that I am grateful. I thank you.

At the conclusion of the toast master's speech George W. Hughes in behalf of the citizens spoke in the following manner of Mr. Fitzgerald as a citizen and musician:

Mr. Fitzgerald: In behalf of the citizens of Cedar Falls I wish to say a few words that the occasion permits. You have done your duty faithfully and well. It is with much regret that the citizens of Cedar Falls take farewell with the one who has done so much for our city and its young men through your untiring efforts. You leave a monument in our city in the way of a musical organization that will ever, we hope, reflect credit on your work. And in conclusion allow me in behalf of our citizens to extend you our heartfelt appreciation and well wishes for your future and that of your estimable wife with god speed and farewell.

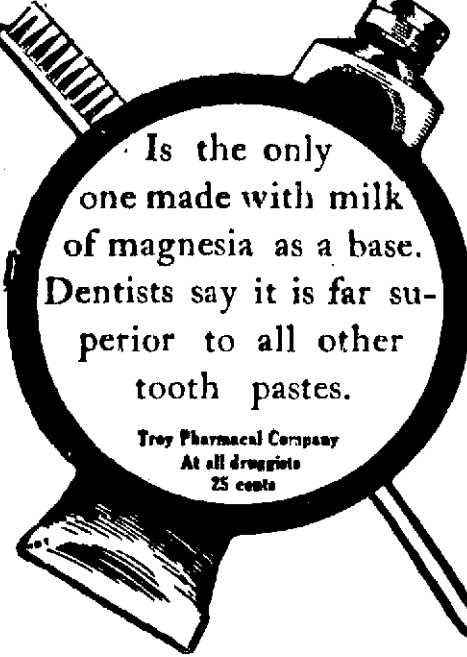

J. W. Patterson, in behalf of the band boys, paid a just and fitting tribute to the work and the efforts of Mr. Fitzgerald. Of his never ceasing efforts to bring the band to a high moral plane as well as to make them efficient musicians. And closed with a most affectionate, tender wish for his future.

Mr. Fitzgerald followed with a most earnest expression of heartfelt thanks for the many evidences of pure friendship that were shown him and, in a few brief words, thanked each and all.

BLOOD SUBSTITUTE.

Why Saline Solution is Sometimes Injected into the Veins.

Occasionally in cases of serious wounds where there has been great loss of blood the published reports state that "saline solution" was injected into the veins to supply the deficiency. The average reader, however, has a very vague idea how a solution of salt takes the place of blood.

Not to go into a complete analysis of the blood, it is sufficient to note that of 1,000 parts, 780.15 is composed of water, albumen .65 parts, sodium and potassium 8.371, coloring matter (supplied by the red blood corpuscles) 133, leaving only some 12 parts to be composed of fibrin, fat, calcium and magnesium, etc. Where there is serious loss of blood a state of collapse sets in because the normal weight of blood being reduced, the heart's action is diminished, there being less resistance for that organ to overcome.

To counteract the result of shock and collapse it is necessary to stimulate the heart by restoring the normal weight; in other words, to get it to work by giving it something to work on. As the analysis shows, of 1,000 parts of blood nearly 800 are composed of water and sodium, and therefore a plain saline solution makes a good substitute. The heart does not know the difference, and it goes to pumping away as usual as soon as this imitation blood gets in the veins. The saline solution serves to tide the patient over the danger point. As the food is converted into chyle, new blood is formed, the red corpuscles are supplied rapidly from the normal tissues, and the saline solution is thrown off through the secretions in the usual way.

Formerly transfusion of blood was the means employed, but this always objectionable method has been supplanted. The greatest objection to the transfusion of blood from one person to another was that to supply the necessary amount to restore the wounded patient it was inevitable that the volunteer should be almost as badly drained, so that the physician would have two patients on his hands where he had one. Besides, there was always the risk of transfusing disease to the patient with the other's blood. Dogs and sheep have been sacrificed to surgery for this purpose, but most people prefer to use blood of their own manufacture to any imported from beasts or their fellow creatures.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The first of the modern bank notes were made in China about the year 1000 A. D.

Blood in its natural state contains a surprising amount of pure air, amounting to nearly seven-eighths of its entire bulk.

The wasp's nest is constructed of a first class article of papier mache, made from the pulp of wood, with an animal glue specially prepared by the wasps for the purpose.

The honey of the snapdragon cannot be extracted by the common bee, which has not weight enough to pull down the lower jaw of this curious flower. Only the bumblebee has access to the interior.

The first trapdoor was made by a species of African spider which has its nest in the ground and closes the entrance by means of a trapdoor opening outwardly and covered with bits of earth and grass in order to escape observation.

Women's Love of Ugly Men.

The illustrious men in history who were distinguished as much for the fascination which they exercised over the fair sex as for their talents and ability were, as a rule, plain and insignificant in appearance. Julius Caesar was a very ill favored man, and yet when a mere stripling, before his fame in Rome, girls of his own age sighed for him and mature women longed for his love. Among the men of later times who were renowned in like manner were Sir Philip Sidney, plain almost to ugliness; Paul Scarron, the comic poet, a cripple; Voltaire, unmistakably ugly, and Rousseau, whose manners were awkward as his face was plain, while John Wilkes, who had the power to subjugate any woman who spoke to him for even five minutes, was admitted by his own showing to be the ugliest man in England in his time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lahee entertained with a luncheon on Thursday in honor of eastern and Pasadena friends.

The splendid cuisine at the Country Club was well patronized on Sunday last. At one o'clock Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collins celebrated their return from abroad by a luncheon at which Messrs. and Mrs. W. M. Griswold, Dana King, I. N. Atwood, Miss Ada Way and Mr. Simpson were the guests. The affair was also a farewell to the former two couples before their departure for the East. In the evening were three dinner parties, one consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dana King and Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin of Glendora, another of Messrs. and Mrs. Peck and Clizbe and the third of Mrs. W. Griffiths and friends.

On Saturday last, Mrs. J. R. Elliott, assisted by her daughters and Miss (Griswold), entertained a number of young ladies, friends of Miss Gertrude, in her home on N. Citrus avenue. The time was pleasantly spent with music and games, Miss Clara Senson winning a prize. Refreshments of peach ice and cake were served. Those present included the Misses Burpee, Nigg, Bess and Marian Given, Crook, Clara Senson, Ethel Fisher, Aschenbrenner, Paulder, Fletcher, Ratakin, Nye, Anna Clarke, Ada Way, Atwood.

A pleasant party of young ladies were entertained by Mrs. Burpee at her home on Rowland avenue last Tuesday, being school fellows of Miss Myra Burpee. Many games were played, prizes being won by the Misses Nigg and Grace Fisher. Refreshments consisted of pineapple ice, cake, wafers and candy. Those present included the Misses Gertrude Elliott, Nigg, Bess and Marian Given, Crook, Leola and Luella Roberts, Clara and Ethel Senson, Grace and Ethel Fisher, Aschenbrenner, and cousin Josephine, Paulder, Fletcher, Cady, Ratakin, Nye, Anna Clarke, Way and Atwood.

Miss Bessie Madison was the delighted recipient of a pleasant surprise at her home on Tuesday evening last, when about thirty of her young friends met to say "goodbye" and to wish her happiness in her new home at Pomona. Fun reigned at the home on the San Bernardino road until a late hour, games and music being enjoyed and dainty refreshments served. The invited guests were the Misses Gertrude Elliott, Grace Butler, Grace Boots, Edith Hull, Albine Power, Pauline Allison, Ruth Fairly, Ethel Casey, Vyvienne Hodges, Grace Arnold, Blanche Crouse, Irene Madden, Ida Snodgrass, Alma Wolfarth, Messrs. Ray Coltrin, Lloyd Taylor, Hoyt Lelsurn, Ray and Tom Finch, Fred Chamberlain, Marion Adelt, Herbert Miller, Charlie McKee, Clay Benton, Sam Allison, John Butler, Clinton Hutchison, Roy Goodell, Roy and Ray Kistler, Elmer Nigg, Tom Reed, Bert Hull.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the house of the bride, Miss Ida Baker, on Cottage Drive, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Baker and Mr. John E. Zug were united in marriage by the Rev. Alfred Fletcher. The decorations were simple but effective, consisting of potted plants, ferns and bridal roses. The bride was beautifully gowned in white crepe chiffon. After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Zug, father and mother of the groom, Miss Mary Zug, Percy Zug, Charlie, Selma and Minnie Zug, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Baker and children, Dr. and Mrs. Goodell and son Clay, Mrs. Gaugner and children, Mrs. B. K. Hosselino and mother, Mrs. H. Maunders of San Diego. The bride is a well known and popular lady who has won many friends in the town by her good hearted and generous disposition. The groom is a well known rancher of a respected Brethren family. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a short wedding trip and will be at home to their friends at the ranch of Mr. Zug after September 15th.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Stevens and little son and Mrs. Douglas and daughter returned from Long Beach on Monday last. Little Brewster Stevens was very sick the early part of the week but is now much better.

The sad accident which happened to Dr. Lewis Thorpe last week and occasioned so much grief to his many friends has had an unfortunate sequel, in that he will lose the sight of one eye, although the doctors feel sure that the other one will be saved.

Many Going to Big Circus.

The people of this vicinity will have but one opportunity of seeing the Ringling Brothers World's Greatest Shows this year, the exhibition at Los Angeles on Sept. 23, 24 and 25, being the only one to be presented near here. It is an opportunity that all lovers of good amusement should avail themselves of, as the Ringling Brothers have organized a circus so excellent, so large and so full of novelty that it is above comparison with any other show.

Foreign agents stationed in Europe and Asia were instructed last winter to engage every act of prominence regardless of cost, and the result is a performance absolutely monopolizing all the world's best talent. What these agents left for other shows to engage was not considered good enough for the Ringling Brothers to bother with. There are over 300 performers with the circus and 100 big acts, not one of which any other show could afford to pay for. The Ricebano horses which wear trousers, coats and boots, and stand and walk on their hind feet all the time they are in the ring, are the greatest trained animal act the world has ever seen.

Other attractions are Alexander Patti, the only man on earth who can walk on his head as others walk on their feet; De Kock's wonderful dog that walks around the ring on its hind feet, balancing a man on its head; the wonderful five Bedinis from Italy, who jump simultaneously to the back of a single horse; the great Kaufmanns who ride unicycles on a high wire with the handle bars removed; the Holloways of London; the Marnello-Marnites, acrobatic bell ringers; Daisy Hodgini, the celebrated Italian rider and only woman who can turn a somersault while on horseback, and the Mirza Golem troupe loaned to the Ringling Brothers by the Shah of Persia.

If the space were to spare 100 more acts, better than ever before seen in this country, could be mentioned. Suffice it to say that Ringling Brothers have an organization so wonderful as to stand on a plain by itself high above any other kind of amusement. And there will be but one opportunity for the people of this vicinity to see it.
